Set-Up of Online Assignments
For each section of the textbook that is covered in class, there is a “Practice Assignment” and a “Homework Assignment”.

The next few pages of this tutorial describe these two types of assignments in more detail.
The practice assignment is just that…practice. It is an opportunity for you to work problems similar to the problems you will work in the homework assignment. The practice assignment gives you a “sneak peek” of the type of questions that appear on the homework assignment.

Each question on the practice assignment can be submitted up to twenty times.

Once you submit your answers to the problems on the practice assignment, you will receive immediate feedback on whether your answers were correct ✔️ or incorrect ✗. If your answer was incorrect, the correct answer will be displayed.
For some questions on the practice assignment, various help buttons may be available. Click on the buttons to receive extra help on the question associated with the button.

The score you obtain on these practice problems will NOT affect your course grade (i.e. the weight of the practice assignments is 0%), but you still need to do the practice assignments so you have a better chance of success on the homework assignments.
The homework assignment has problems that are similar to the practice assignment, but there are some important differences:

- The score you obtain on the homework assignment DOES affect your course grade.
- You will receive feedback on whether your answers are correct or incorrect, BUT the correct answer for each problem will NOT be shown until after the assignment’s due date.
- Each problem on a homework assignment can be submitted up to three times. Thus, if you answer a question incorrectly on the first try, you have two more opportunities to answer the question correctly. When a question is answered correctly, no further submissions are necessary.
