Calculator, Textbook and Online Homework Access Code

- Check with your instructor regarding the calculator policy for your course.
- For Math 151 and Math 152, you will need a textbook, a Matlab manuel, and a WebAssign (online homework) access code. The textbook is available in two different formats; the traditional hard bound textbook (new or used) or the electronic ebook version. The Matlab manuel must be purchased from a local bookstore. The WebAssign access codes are available for single-term or multi-term semesters. The next few slides explain the different scenarios along with pricing for each option.

For a list of required textbook titles visit <http://www.math.tamu.edu/teaching/textbooks/09C/>

If you buy a brand new textbook. . .

- Purchase the textbook that is bundled with a “paper” WebAssign access code. You can purchase the bundle at <http://tamumath.ichaptersbuy.com/> for $165.00 or you can purchase it at a local bookstore. Buying from the website above will be cheaper than the bookstore, but you must allow 1 week for shipping.
- NOTE: You MUST hold onto the paper access code until you register your code in WebAssign.

If you buy a used textbook. . .

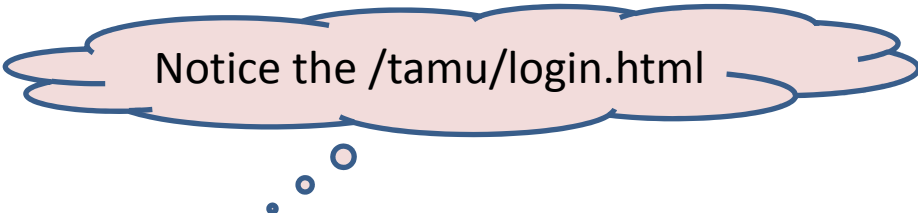

- You will need to purchase a WebAssign access code directly from WebAssign. There are two types of codes to choose from:
 - Single Term Access to Homework ($35): This will give you access to the online homework system for a single semester.
 - Lifetime Access To Homework ($55): This will give you access to the online homework for as long as you use the Stewart, Early Vectors textbook.

If you buy an eBook . . .

- You will need to purchase the eBook bundled with access to the online homework directly from WebAssign. There are two bundles to choose from:
 - Single-Term access to the eBook and homework ($60): This will get you access to the eBook and the online homework for one semester.
 - Lifetime of Edition access to eBook and homework ($85): This will get you access to the eBook and the online homework for as long as you use the Stewart, Early Vectors book.

Accessing WebAssign

- Regardless of which textbook option you choose, you will have to log into WebAssign to either activate your access code that came bundled with the new text or to purchase the eBook/access code. To start this process go to the URL below.
