

On some spectral properties of combinatorial and quantum graphs

Peter Kuchment

Department of Mathematics

Texas A&M University, College Station, TX

The talk will survey some recent results concerning various spectral properties of combinatorial and quantum graphs, including Schnol' type theorems that conclude presence of spectrum from existence of growing generalized eigenfunctions; existence and structure of point spectrum for periodic graphs; gap opening effects; absence of singular continuous spectrum.