Print out and attach to the top of each draft!!!

Student Editor Worksheet - Math 220, Spring 2019

Name of the Student Author _____Section_____

Topic number_____

        Note: If there is no enough space for your answer, use the backside of this sheet.

- The author follows all/almost all instructions for this term paper. YES/ NO

- The length is appropriate. YES/ NO

- The spacing is appropriate. YES/ NO

- Misspelled words have been identified.YES/ NO If YES, give an example: page_____, line _____

- Misused words have been identified. YES/ NO If YES, give an example: page_____, line _____

- Incomplete sentences have been identified. YES/ NO If YES, give an example: page_____, line _____

- Sentences that are too long and complex have been identified. YES/ NO If YES, give an example: page_____, line _____

- Unclear portions of the paper have been identified. YES/ NO If YES, give an example: page_____, lines _____

- The author used third person writing the paper. YES/ NO

- Pages are labeled correctly. YES/ NO

- All equations, definitions, theorems, sections, subsections, figures, tables etc. are labeled. YES/ NO

- Introduction includes schemes of logical dependence of sections.YES/ NO

- What is the main point(s) of this essay?

_____
_____
_____

- Where, in your opinion, should more details or examples be added? Why?

_____
_____
_____

- At what point does the paper fail to hold my interest? Why?

_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

- Where is the organization confusing? Why?

_____
_____
_____

Name of the Student Editor _____